I. KEY RESULTS OF THE EURASIAN PEOPLES' ASSEMBLY ACTIVITY 2021

The Eurasian Peoples' Assembly is an International Union of Non-governmental Organizations and citizens with an active life position, sharing and promoting the ideas and values of Eurasian integration, the protection of peace, the strengthening of friendship, harmony, partnership and good-neighborliness between peoples. It is these ideas and values that are today top-priority issues on the international agenda for the salvation of the common future of humanity.

On July 9, 2021, Moscow hosted the General Eurasian Peoples' Assembly - the general meeting of Assembly members, the supreme body of the International Union of Non-Governmental Organizations "Eurasian Peoples' Assembly". The event was supported by the UN Information Center and held at the site of the main information partner - TASS.

The General Assembly summed up the organization's activities since its establishment, approved a long-term plan for the next four years, and elected the governing bodies of the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly. Andrey Yuryevich Belyaninov was re-elected General Secretary of the Assembly.

Having summed up the results of the first stage of development, the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly continues to develop as an international platform, affirming the ideology of peace, benevolent good-neighborliness between different countries and peoples.

By the end of the reporting period more than 845 individuals and legal entities, representatives of non-governmental organizations from 53 countries are members of the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly.

Despite the restrictions associated with the pandemic the program of the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly activities for 2021 includes activities aimed at strengthening integration processes through diversified cooperation with partners from different countries of Greater Eurasia.

A number of events organized by the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly were supported by UNESCO and the UN Information Center.

In March 2021, the International Union of Non-Governmental Organizations "Eurasian Peoples' Assembly" was nominated for the Félix Houphouët-Boigny UNESCO Peace Prize as the organization meeting all the criteria for a high-level prize.

Among the priority areas of public diplomacy of the Assembly in the reporting period it is worth to highlight:

- Youth diplomacy. Projects for children and youth.
- Scientific and educational diplomacy. Projects in education and science.
- Cultural and humanitarian diplomacy. Projects dedicated to common history, spiritual and moral values, the promotion of a unifying Russian language, cultural exchanges and humanitarian security.
- Economic cooperation. Partnership based on trust, common views on the achievements of culture, science, striving for peace and economic integration.
- Happiness Diplomacy has become a new activity area.

In 2021, the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly created the Department of Happiness. Its main tasks include activities on organizing cooperation in achieving sustainable development goals to increase the happiness index in Eurasian countries, generalization and replication of successful international experience and the development of charitable programs. Support of public and state initiatives aimed at creating conditions for the public and personal happiness of the peoples of Eurasia becomes one of the most important criteria of the state authority in the international arena. Among the tasks is the creation of additional opportunities and favorable conditions for people and organizations striving to make a creative contribution to the development of Eurasia for a happy life of all its peoples.

Despite the difficult, acute situation with the coronavirus pandemic, the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly continues to expand interaction with partners from different countries, both offline and online, since many emerging global problems can only be solved together.

During the reporting period, the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly concluded 36 cooperation agreements with partners. In general, since its establishment, the Assembly has signed agreements with more than 135 business organizations, chambers of commerce and industry, higher educational institutions, foundations, scientific centers, various public organizations and associations from India, France, Serbia, Greece, Syria, Kazakhstan, Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Uzbekistan, Turkey, Bulgaria, Russia, Azerbaijan, England, Italy, Spain, Benin and other countries.

The establishment in 2021 of two Committees of the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly became positive and efficient. The Committee on Science and Education develops in the area of scientific diplomacy and is aimed at creating conditions for enhancing cooperation between academic institutions operating within the Eurasian space and non-academic organizations around the world relating their activities at the promotion of educational and scientific projects in the interests of strengthening peace and safety.

The activities of the Greater Eurasia - Africa International Committee are focused on establishing strong mutually beneficial partnership relations between the peoples of Eurasia and Africa using the tools of public diplomacy. During the reporting period a number of agreements were signed and such major events as an International Round Table "Eurasia - Africa: Connecting Continents. Priorities and Synergy of Cooperation" and the Round Table "Greater Eurasia - Africa": Sustainable Development and Social Responsibility" were held.

An important Assembly activity area has been and remains the promotion of the UN Sustainable Development Goals implementation.

The most relevant to the Assembly goal is to strengthen the means of implementation and revitalize the Global Partnership for Sustainable Development.

Successful implementation of the sustainable development agenda is impossible without building partnerships between governments and civil society in Eurasia, without common goals focused on the interests of all mankind and the planet.

THE MAIN GOAL OF THE EURASIAN PEOPLES' ASSEMBLY is the formation of a social integration model in the name of establishing peace and harmony through the development of multilateral cooperation and public (people's) diplomacy.

MAIN OBJECTIVES OF THE ASSEMBLY

- Development of the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly as an important tool of public diplomacy and enhancing its role in the context of the formation of a multipolar world
- Creation of a wide communication platform for interaction between civil society institutions and government bodies, uniting people regardless of gender, race, nationality, religion to strengthen the harmony and unity of the peoples of Eurasia
- The unity of the peoples of Eurasia and the upbringing of the younger generation on basic spiritual and moral values common to all mankind
- Support of public and state initiatives aimed at preserving peace and harmony, strengthening friendship and interethnic good-neighborliness
- Joining efforts to preserve the Eurasian continent in all the diversity of its natural, spiritual, cultural, historical heritage and create safe and comfortable living conditions
- Introduction of new formats of interaction and creation of an effective partnership of the Assembly with civil society institutions and authorities of Eurasian countries
- Development and implementation of programs, projects and events related to the Assembly statutory activities and aimed at strengthening cooperation between the peoples of Eurasia
- Creation of opportunities and favorable conditions for using the resource potential of every person striving to make his own creative contribution to the development of Eurasia

The project “A fairy tale is in each of us” is something that can unite dissimilar countries and peoples. Each nation has its own heroes and stories, but they are all similar in one thing - each fairy tale teaches us to be kinder, more merciful, a fairy tale helps to find happy moments in every little thing. Fairy tale photo shoots are not just dressing up as characters from fairy tales and photographing an illustrated moment of a fairy tale story. To a greater extent, it is fairy tale therapy, it is working through one's personal problems through the story of a character the participants reincarnate with the help of a fairy tale therapist.

The project lasted from April to December 2021. More than 300 people took part in the project. There were 24 photo shootings sessions. The project was presented at the International Creative Festival "Sunflower", the Congress of Non-Commercial Organizations of Russia, the International Forum of Civic Participation "We Are Together".

April-December

The international project "Happiness to fly" unites everyone who is in love with the sky. Its main goal is to help people experience the feeling of flying and let new happy experiences into their lives.

The state of flight is what a happy person feels. It may seem strange, but people are so used to suffering and surviving that they are already very afraid to take the first step towards new horizons. It's like skydiving and it's not just an allegory. Having taken their first step into the sky, many project participants begin to let the new, unknown into their lives much easier, and many of them completely change their lives and find happiness in every moment.

The project lasted from April to December 2021. More than 100 people took part in the project. The project was presented at the International Creative Festival "Sunflower", the Congress of Non-Commercial Organizations of Russia, the International Forum of Civic Participation "We Are Together".

The Children's Media Center of the EURASIA KIDS project took part in the meeting of the General Secretariat of the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly. The inclusion was timed to coincide with International Children's Day.

The questions of the young participants were not childish at all. For example, Zhenya Kuzmina from Udmurtia asked: "Wuhan, unfortunately, has become world famous as the place where the coronavirus came from, in fact, it has become the capital of the origin of the coronavirus. Wuhan is the sister city of Izhevsk, and it is very painful that this happened. What good deed could Izhevsk become the capital of in order to somehow rectify this situation?" Andrey Yuryevich Belyaninov, Secretary General of the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly, answered Zhenya's question: "Izhevsk already has something to be proud of. It is a city of Kalashnikov, Tchaikovsky - world famous names."

June 5, Russia, Udmurtia, Izhevsk

International Days of Happiness started in Russia. Udmurtia has been chosen as a pilot region for a new large-scale project of the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly. The region where Tchaikovsky and Kalashnikov lived and worked was not chosen by chance.

It is here that the great river Kama starts from, flowing into the Volga. The city of Sarapul was once one of the most trading in the Urals. The Sarapul pier on the Kama River was a brisk business before the revolution. Fish, shipping, industry, forest - what the small town of Sarapul was not famous for. But most importantly, people here lived happily. The keepers of the history of the small merchant town, the employees of the Sarapulsky Museum-Reserve, also spoke about this. The feeling of peace and happiness is felt even now. Happy landing of the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly arrived in Sarapul.

XIII. IN LIEU OF CONFINEMENT

Ahead is the further development of the Assembly as an important tool of public diplomacy. The organization's plans for the near future include no less global tasks and major projects than those that have already been successfully implemented in the previous period.

The Assembly works on the Eurasian agenda together with the major international organizations of the UN, SCO, BRICS, ASEAN and others.

An important area for further development of the organization's activities should be the establishment of the diplomatic role of international non-governmental organizations in the conditions of the formation of a multipolar world and the consolidation of public organizations in different countries representing the interests of their peoples.

The Eurasian Peoples' Assembly is not just another public international association. The establishment of the Assembly proceeds from the realized need to strengthen the integration processes at the public level. Along with the expansion of mutually beneficial economic ties between states within the Eurasian partnership, it is important to simultaneously intensify the cultural and humanitarian cooperation of peoples, strengthen the interaction of non-governmental organizations, and create public structures aimed at the commonwealth.

It is on this affirming, basic principle of commonwealth that the further line of action of the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly is proposed to build.

International Union of Non-Governmental Organizations
