International Union of Non-Governmental Organizations "Eurasian Peoples' Assembly" turns 5-year anniversary

The International Union of Non-Governmental Organizations "Eurasian Peoples' Assembly" was established on May 27, 2017 in Moscow at the First Congress of the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly. More than 2,500 representatives from 67 countries of the continent took part in the work of the Congress.

As part of the business program of the Congress, more than 40 dialogue platforms were organized, including plenary sessions, panel discussions, round tables, conferences, master classes, forums and thematic sessions. More than 130 speakers and moderators, including 53 foreign ones, took part in disputes and discussions. The focus was on issues of economic cooperation, priorities in the environment, the work of humanitarian missions, cultural cooperation, the development and support of new projects, the prospects for a single Eurasian information space, the preservation of interethnic harmony and much more.

The cultural program of the Congress was presented by several interesting events. Film screenings and meetings with the directors of the first International Film Festival "Eurasia: Territory of Cinema", a Gala concert of the Eurasian Festival of National Cultures "Melodies of Unity", the exhibitions "Multinational Russia" and "Eurasia - a Continent of Peace and Consent", as well as the photo project "Children. Flowers. Life".

The Congress of the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly included a flash mob timed to coincide with the Day of Eurasian Integration. The participants of the flash mob sang the Hymn to Peace by Ali Dimaev. The key words of this song "kindness will warm the world" were often heard at the Congress of Representatives of Non-Governmental Organizations of the Eurasian Continent, which was held under the motto "Let's create the future of Eurasia together!"

A video message from the multinational crew of Expedition 51 of the MIR orbital station became a highlight of the plenary session of the Congress. Three out of five cosmonauts were representatives of Eurasia: Fedor Yurchikhin - Russian, Oleg Novitsky - a Belarusian, Thomas Pesquet - a Frenchman.

A solemn ceremony the Congress held in Moscow included the awarding of the prominent public figures with the Eurasian Public Recognition Award the "Envoy of Amity".

Realizing the role of civil society and public diplomacy in the development and strengthening of integration on the Eurasian continent, creating a solid foundation for the future of the peoples of the most densely populated region of the planet, the participants of the Congress called the establishment of the International Union of Non-Governmental Organizations "Eurasian Peoples' Assembly" one of the promising forms of implementation of the social integration model.

The Eurasian Peoples' Assembly is intended to become a platform for combining the efforts of non-governmental organizations and business communities in the development of integration processes, the approval of peacekeeping ideas and the strengthening of good-neighborly and business relations.

The Congress ended its work with the formation of the General Council of the Assembly and the adoption of a number of fundamental documents, including the final Resolution and the Appeal to the heads of States and peoples of Eurasia, as well as to international organizations, in particular the UN and UNESCO, with a proposal to support the initiatives of the Congress.

The International Public Diplomacy Forum is dedicated to the 5th anniversary of the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly.

In the modern context, the unity of the peoples of the Eurasian continent becomes an urgent need for the further development of a multi-level integration model - a Greater Eurasian partnership. It is necessary to actively search for the most harmonious forms and ways of integration development. And the solution of such important tasks falls on the shoulders of not only State structures, but also the international community.

The Eurasian continent, like the entire planet, needs new specific mechanisms for building a common future based on the principles of equality and mutual respect. One of such mechanisms should be the multifaceted interaction of peoples on the principles of public diplomacy.

The issues of popularization and further development of public diplomacy through innovative approaches and modern mechanisms of cultural, humanitarian, scientific, educational and business cooperation are on the Forum's agenda.

The forum is held as part of the further development of the role of public diplomacy and the expansion of Eurasian integration based on the coordination of the activities of civil societies and government bodies of the States of the continent.

The initiator and organizer of the Forum is the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly, which celebrates its first anniversary.

With each passing year, the Eurasian Peoples' Assembly develops more and more confidently as an international platform that affirms the ideology of peace, benevolent good neighborliness between countries and peoples.

The primary, initially approved tools of the Assembly's activities are: peacekeeping dialogue, development of public diplomacy, integration processes, approval of interethnic communication, humanitarian cooperation.

The program of the International Public Diplomacy Forum held for the fifth anniversary of the Assembly provides for a plenary session, a series of dialogue platforms in various areas, including culture, science and education, the preservation of historical memory, youth policy, the economy and social responsibility of business, sports and humanitarian cooperation.

Representatives of international intergovernmental organizations, prominent political figures, famous scientists, figures of culture, education, athletes are invited to participate in the Forum.

PANEL SESSION

"People's Diplomacy. Cultural and Humanitarian Cooperation"

10:00-11.45

Hall of Plenary Sessions, 5th floor

Organizer:

The Eurasian Peoples' Assembly

Purpose: expansion of cultural cooperation between the peoples of Eurasia, understanding the growing importance of intercultural communication in the modern world.

Issues for discussion:

1. The importance of interaction between international public organizations in the preservation of intercultural communication between the peoples of Eurasia.
2. Culture and art - the basis of people's diplomacy.
3. Theater is a universal language of communication between peoples.
4. The unifying power of art.

Within the panel session, an exchange of views will take place on topical issues and, first of all, on cultural cooperation, because the interaction and mutual enrichment of cultures are the basis of diplomatic relations and friendship between peoples. Art, in addition to aesthetic value, carries the most important integration component, sometimes reaching the forefront of diplomatic relations. A single cultural code based on high moral values is a platform for peaceful, good neighborly coexistence of the peoples of Eurasia.

Вопросы для обсуждения:

Business diplomacy is becoming one of the most dynamic areas of world politics and plays a key role in ensuring trust and mutual understanding between States and peoples in the search for ways to jointly overcome the current global crisis and effectively counter new threats.

The old models of interpersonal and international relations, diplomatic relations, which previously created stability, today no longer meet the requirements and challenges of our time.

We need an active search for the most harmonious forms, ways of integration development. And the solution of such important tasks falls on the shoulders of not only State structures, but also the international community.

The joint search for new solutions and the development of strategies, the strengthening and development of mutual contacts will undoubtedly contribute to the formation of a common atmosphere of trust on the continent.
